

Sistering: Grassroots Organizing for Global Rights

October 2-3

Dear MASCP Friends,

Just a reminder about our upcoming events next week. If you would like to sign up for the Popular Education Workshop, there is still room. We hope you can join us!

In March of this year, El Salvador became the first country to ban metallic mining, because of its destructive impact on the country's fragile environment and water resources.

The Madison Arcatao Sister City Project (MASCP) is proud to welcome Zulma Tobar, Salvadoran Coordinator of our parent organization, US El Salvador Sister Cities, and Cintia Gonzalez, lead organizer from our Salvadoran sistering partner, the Association for the Development of El Salvador (CRIPDES).

These two international environmental and human rights activists will be in Madison on October 2-3 to share community organizing strategies and lessons learned from their long struggle against mining and for environmental justice across borders. There will be several opportunities to interact and learn from them. Everyone is warmly invited to participate:

TALK:Community Organizing that leads to National Change

October 2, 2017 12:00PM
Ingraham Hall, Room 336
1155 Observatory Dr, Madison, WI

LACIS (Latin American, Caribbean and Iberian Studies) sponsored Brown Bag presentation, "Community Organizing that leads to National Change" by Cintia and Zulma.

PANEL AND SOCIAL GATHERING: Water is life: stories of grassroots environmental activism in El Salvador and the United States

October 2, 2017 6:00PM
Madison Public Library: Central Library
201 W Mifflin St, Madison, WI

Speakers:

- Cintia González: Association for the Development of El Salvador, CRIPDES.
- Zulma Tobar: US-El Salvador Sister Cities.
- Rebecca Kemble: activist and Alder 18th District, Madison
- Al Gedicks: activist and Professor-UW, Eau Claire

Moderated by Norm Stockwell of the Progressive Magazine

WORKSHOP AND SOCIAL GATHERING: The Essential Role of Community Organizing in National Change

October 3, 2017 5:00PM
Catholic Multicultural Center
1862 Beld St, Madison, WI

Dinner and interactive workshop using popular education strategies. There is no charge. Sign up and /or suggest a local community organizer for us to reach out to. New and experienced organizers are encouraged to come and learn together! Click the Register for Workshop button to learn more.

Register for Workshop

LISTEN:8 O'Clock Buzz - Interview with Cintia and Zulma

October 2, 2017 8:00AM
WORT 89.9FM or wortfm.org

Host Brian Standing will interview Cintia and Zulma.

Share on social

P.O. Box 132 Madison, WI 53701

www.mascp.org